Six States Hold Election Tuesday

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Writer

The 1966 elections drama begins Tuesday with primaries in six states, and the opening scene is dominated by a figure who isn't officially in the cast — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

Wallace is barred from running for re-election but his wife, Lurleen, is seeking to turn aside anyone else at the statehouse door. She is one of 10 candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In addition to Alabama, states with primaries Tuesday are Florida, Indiana, New Mexico, Ohio and Oklahoma.

Governorships are up in all the states except Indiana. Two of the six — Alabama and Oklahoma — have contests over nominations for the Senate.

All the states are making nominations for congressional seats.

But outside of Alabama, there appears little possibility of any drama of national significance. In Ohio, Robert Taft Jr., son of the late former Republican Senate leader and grandson of President William Howard Taft, is trying for a political comeback by seeking a GOP nomination for Congress.

Taft Opposed
He has opposition in the primary from William E. Flax, a Cincinnati attorney and political novice. But political analysts expect Taft will have no difficulty in defeating Flax.

Taft, 49, served one term in Congress but was defeated two years ago when he tried to oust Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young from the Senate. The House seat that Taft would like to have back now is held by Democrat John J. Gilligan who has no primary opposition.

Democratic Gov. Haydon Burns of Florida has primary opposition from two men he defeated two years ago — Mayor Robert King High of Miami and Scott Kelly, a former state senator from Lakeland. A fourth candidate, Sam Foor, publishes a political news letter.

Burns is the favorite, but a hard struggle may force a runoff primary May 24. High was runner-up to Burns two years ago.

Ten in Alabama
In Alabama, Mrs. Wallace, a 39-year-old blonde, generally is expected to top the field of 10 contenders in Tuesday's voting. The big questions are whether she can get a majority of all the votes and who will be runner-up. If no one gets a majority, the top two candidates will be in a runoff May 31.

The other contenders are former Govs. James E. Folsom and John Patterson, former Rep. Carl Elliott, State Attorney General, and State Commissioner A. W. Todd, Charles Woods, Sherman Powell and Eunice I. Gore.

Report End To Teacher Strike

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — Members of the Highland Park Federation of Teachers reportedly reached agreement with the city's board of education today, averting the third day of a strike which closed two schools last week.

Robert Blackwell, executive secretary of the State Labor Mediation Board, said tentative agreement was reached early this morning. Teachers will report to their classrooms today, he said.

A court session scheduled for today before Circuit Judge John B. Swainson to seek an injunction against the teachers was adjourned until Tuesday, Blackwell said.

Terms of the agreement will be discussed at a meeting of the teachers after classes today, according to the mediation board.

President Finds Best Gal Fickle

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the troops at his elbow, the commander in chief picked up his "favorite little girl friend" and confidently asked, "Who do you love?"

The stock reply for Courtenay Lynda Valentini, 2½, to the stock question from President Johnson is, "The Prez."

But Sunday was Courtenay's day to be fickle. Without hesitation she replied: "I love Pat," looking over the President's shoulder to Patrick J. Nugent, Johnson's future son-in-law.

The shift in affections by the young daughter of presidential assistant Jack Valentini touched off a round of laughter in Johnson's office in which the President, his daughter Luci—who will become Nugent's bride in August, and Nugent joined.

Navy Bombers Konk N. Viet Missile Base

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. Navy fighter-bombers demolished another antiaircraft missile site near the North Vietnamese city of Vinh, but in the South the lull in the ground war extended into a third week, the U.S. command reported today.

American planes flew more than 300 sorties against suspected Communist targets in South Viet Nam. For the second day in a row B52s from Guam pounded Viet Cong troop areas near the Cambodian border.

Although weather curtailed air missions over the Communist North, A4 Skyhawks and F4 Crusaders from the carrier Hancock saturated the missile site 34 miles northeast of Vinh, on the North Vietnamese coast, with Bulbup air-to-surface missiles and 500- and 600-pound bombs. A spokesman said they destroyed everything within a 400-foot-square area, including two Soviet-built missile launchers.

U.S. spokesmen reported the loss of two more planes over North Viet Nam, raising the total shot down there to 227, but the pilots of both were rescued by helicopters. Four U.S. planes were lost over the North Friday.

Commenting on the lull in the ground war, the spokesman declared: "We have hurt these people a great deal in recent months. We're sure they are still pouring people in here from North Viet Nam at the rate of 5-500 a month. I don't believe they have supplies for support."

The infiltration figure, however, represents an increase of 1,000 men a month over Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's estimate to the Senate two months ago.

MENOMINEE (AP) — Authorization for issuance of $4.1 million in long-term bonds for school construction will be sought May 9 in a Menominee School District election. The bonds would finance a new high school, replacement of one elementary school and a 10-room addition at another.

Name Pulitzer Winners Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia University, will announce the 1966 Pulitzer Prizes in journalism, letters, drama and music today.

This is the 50th year of the awards, established at the university by the will of newspaper publisher Joseph Pulitzer who died in 1911. They have been awarded annually since 1917.

Other Soviet leaders standing atop Lenin's Tomb in a cold rain reviewed the parade, which included floats denouncing the U. S. presence in Viet Nam.

Radio Peking said three million persons turned out for the celebrations in the Communist Chinese capital, but Communist party Chairman Mao was absent. Mao, 72, has not been seen in public for more than five months.

Michigan Mourns Loss Of Sen. Pat McNamara

DETROIT (AP) — Patrick Vincent McNamara, who once earned only nine cents an hour as a pipefitter, today was paid the respect and homage of the state he served in the U.S. Senate for nearly 12 years.

The 71-year-old Michigan Democrat died Saturday night after suffering a stroke at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md. He had been under treatment since March 11 for a blood clot which settled in a lung.

McNamara, chairman of the important Senate Public Works Committee, announced earlier this year he would not seek a third Senate term. His failing health was believed to have prompted the decision.

An aide of the senator said funeral services would be Wednesday in Detroit's Holy Name

Roman Catholic Church. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

President Johnson and the leading figures of Michigan joined in a tribute to McNamara.

In a statement from the White House, Johnson described him as "a man of good and generous instincts. He served many worthwhile causes with concern for those Americans unable to help themselves, and he will be remembered as a champion of the people."

Three Day Mourning
In Lansing, Gov. George Romney proclaimed a three-day period of mourning throughout Michigan and ordered that U.S. and state flags be flown at half staff.

Michigan law permits, but does not require, Romney to appoint a successor to McNamara. Romney declined to discuss his plans until after the senator's funeral. Griffin was thought a likely choice.

McNamara was born in North Weymouth, Mass., son of Irish immigrants and oldest of eight children. He left high school and became an apprentice pipefitter, earning nine cents an hour.

He moved to Detroit in 1920 and became active in union and civic affairs. He married Kathleen Kennedy in Cleveland in 1921 and they had two children, Mary Jane and Patrick Vincent Jr.

Wife From Calumet
McNamara's wife died in 1929. The next year he married Mary Matte of Calumet, Mich.

In 1937 McNamara became president of Local 636 of the Pipefitters Union, a post he held until 1955. He became a vice president of the Detroit Federation of Labor in 1939 and Detroit area rent director for the old Office of Price Administration in 1942.

Still almost unknown outside of Detroit, McNamara set out after the Democratic Senate nomination in 1954, challenging former Sen. Blair Moody, favorite of virtually the entire state party.

In short speeches and simple language, McNamara campaigned for the office, denouncing the Eisenhower administration. He beat Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson by 39,000 votes.

Was A Liberal
In the Senate, to which he won reelection in 1960, McNamara was known as a liberal with a strong concern for the underprivileged. He worked for improved education, civil rights and measures improving the lot of the aged.

In his first campaign in 1954, McNamara advocated a federal program of medical care for the aged under Social Security and federal aid to education. He

Dispute Brings Building Jobs To Abrupt Halt

By The Associated Press
Thousands of construction workers in Lower Michigan struck today, tying up millions of dollars in building jobs.

One union group, about 1,000 reinforced steel workers, stayed at work after earlier voting to strike. A spokesman said employees would work on a day-to-day basis during continuing new contract negotiations.

Walking out were bricklayers, operating engineers, carpenters and laborers.

Involved were workers in virtually every metropolitan area in Lower Michigan, including Detroit, the Saginaw Valley, Flint, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Benton Harbor and Muskegon.

Regis O'Brien, business manager for Reinforced Steelworkers Local 426, said the local Sunday voted 10 to 1 to strike. He said the rodbusters, who place reinforcing steel in concrete, had permission from the Ironworkers International Union for the walkout.

Talks Broken Off
Local 426 has 1,000 members in 34 southern Michigan counties. O'Brien said no further negotiations had been scheduled with the Associated General Contractors (AGC).

Also affected was a 13-county northern Lower Michigan area centering on Traverse City and Alpena. Spokesmen for Laborers Union Local 1247 in Traverse City said no negotiations have been scheduled with contractors and claimed all other trade unions were honoring picket lines at area commercial construction projects.

Laborers' Union locals in Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Benton Harbor and Muskegon, with a total membership of 2,500, voted Saturday to reject a pact offered by the Southwest Michigan Contractors Association.

The laborers held the key to construction projects worth $175 million in southwest Michigan.

Also Saturday, the Saginaw Valley District Carpenters Council rejected a two-year agreement involving a reported $1.07 hourly wage raise. The carpenters work on commercial construction projects in Genesee, Lapeer, Shiawassee, Bay, Saginaw, Tuscola, Gladwin, Isabella and Clare counties.

State mediator Stanley Dobry said the walkout threat increased Saturday after breakdown of negotiations between the AGC and Local 324 of the Operating Engineers.

The breakdown "took the heat off the other unions," Dobry said. "Everybody's trying to outwait everybody else."

Hiring Halls
Operating Engineers run heavy construction equipment. At issue between the steel workers and the AGC reportedly was a union demand that contractors hire rodbusters only through union halls, rather than recalling laid-off workers or shifting men from job to job.

The AGC reportedly raised its offer to the engineers by two cents—to 36 cents this year and 39 more in 1967. The union was said to have stuck to its demand for 50 cents in 1966 and either 50 cents or a deferred decision next year.

The bricklayers, with 4,000 members in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, met Sunday with the Detroit Mason Contractors but declined comment. They also had expiring contracts with the AGC, the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit and the Mason Contractors Association.

Negro Marshal Sworn In Today

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Arthur C. Elliott, 46, the first Negro ever appointed a U.S. marshal, is sworn in today. His territory will be the northern Ohio district.

Elliott, a Cincinnati attorney who was appointed by President Johnson to succeed Fred Hoh, who died last December, says he prefers to "minimize racial things."

"I like the opportunity to serve as a human being," he said. "I don't want to be given anything because I'm a Negro. I don't want to be denied anything because I'm a Negro."

May Day Parade Soviet Setting To Blast At US

By The Associated Press
May Day demonstrations around the world followed the usual pattern Sunday with calls for peace in Viet Nam sounding at most of them.

The Russians showed no new military hardware at their Moscow parade. Mao Tse-tung did not appear in Peking. And 7,000 South Vietnamese staged an anti-American demonstration in front of the U. S. Embassy in Saigon.

Accuse Eight Of Overthrow Try In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Eight persons—including three Argentines — were indicted today for conspiracy to establish a Communist regime in Mexico.

Mexico's attorney general charged that the eight tried to infiltrate the student strike at the National University and use it as a base for the eventual overthrow of the government.

The three Argentines are Oscar Jose Fernandez Bruno, Adolfo Otilio Malvagni and Edvigio Teresa Confronta.

No trial date was set. The eight were arrested by agents of the Federal Security Office during riots at the university where students forced the rector to resign.

The students have denied their strike was Communist-led, saying it was only a manifestation of student desire for more rights in the governing of the autonomous university.

The eight are charged with conspiracy, criminal association, falsification of government stamps and using false stamps and documents.

They denied the charges.

Senator Patrick V. McNamara fought for both measures, and both are law today.

These were a few of the tributes his death called forth: Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill.: "Sen McNamara was one of the most candid men in public service. He had absolutely no guile. The United States has lost an honest servant."

Griffin: "Pat McNamara was a warm, friendly man who will be missed by his colleagues in Congress on both sides of the political aisle."

Walter Reuther, president, United Auto Workers: "those who miss him most will be the very young and the very old, for it was in their interests that he devoted his greatest efforts as a Senator."

Romney: "Michigan has lost a dedicated public servant. My wife and I share the grief of all citizens of our state at his passing and express our personal condolences to his family."

UPCAP Programs Expanding

War On Poverty Grows Huge

Frank Mead, community action specialist of UPCAP, declared in a statement prepared for delivery at the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty meeting at Washington Apr. 13-14 that the present 10 per cent allowance for administrative costs in War on Poverty programs in the Upper Peninsula is unrealistic.

"No CAA in the Upper Peninsula could do the job it is supposed to do," said Mead, "unless it puts at least one-third of its money into staff and administration. This, of course, is way above the 10 per cent standard."

Mead stated in the report that "for 50 years there has been steady economic erosion in the Upper Peninsula, helping to create a number of distinctive population patterns. About one of every four families is poor and the greater part of these are rural and poverty tends to be primarily a rural problem."

Poverty Is Drag
"The poor people are older, under-educated and live in rural areas. There are some 2,000 Indians in the Peninsula, virtually all of them in the poverty group."

"Poverty acts as a constant drag on the regional economy. In a way, perhaps, that is not true of urban areas generally, the economic future of the Upper Peninsula depends on its poor. It has a stagnant economy and out-migration of youths is a constant drain on the human resources of the region."

"The extent to which the U.P. can complete the transition to an economy based on skilled labor and the services trades depends to a large extent on whether or not it can upgrade its human resources. In other words, the War on Poverty in the Upper Peninsula is not a matter of humanitarianism, it is a matter of survival for the region as a whole. As long as the level of poverty and its attendant characteristics are what they are, we must expect the economy to remain static, and we must export our children to keep them from glutting our labor market."

CAAs Created
"There are two developments in the area that are unique, the way the economic opportunity program is being implemented, and the close tie-in with economic development."

"The Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress was organized in 1961 as a regional planning organization to stimulate community and economic development. Eventually UPCAP was able to win enough confidence in itself so that the Michigan Office of Economic Opportunity asked it to assist in organization of community action programs in the U.P. By June of 1965 the 6 Community Action Agencies had submitted proposals and by Dec. 1, 1965 the 6 were in business. Today they are deeply engrossed in an ever-broadening attack on poverty."

"In addition to technical assistance to community action, UPCAP administers a special program for small business development centers which has made 40 loans to small business people totaling $750,000."

Job Training

"In manpower training UPCAP has received a grant to train 200 to 300 and is preparing proposals to train about 550 unemployed and underemployed persons in an on-the-job program. Some 3,600 persons have been trained in the placed in employment in addition (in university-Manpower U.P. and 92 per cent have been in Training & Development Act programs.)

"UPCAP is working for maximum participation of U.P. schools in Programs under the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act."

"In the Upper Peninsula one third of the people are ill-housed. We are contemplating providing concentrated technical assistance to communities in organizing for action on the housing front in concrete proposals."

"UPCAP is now seriously thinking of drafting a regional program for a Neighborhood Youth Corps at the request of the Department of Labor."

"Recently the six CAAs have received a grant for funding of a legal assistance service to the indigent."

Tied To Economy

"The economic opportunity program in our region is no one's poor relation, it has been accepted on the basis of equality with the program of economic development. It means that these two programs can be coordinated on the highest level. It is a matter of tremendous importance in the U.P., where the total number of resources, whether private, local, state or federal, are really quite limited for the task that is at hand."

"We are now in the process of developing a program to

Challenge PTA To Action On Critical Issues

Michigan PTA Convention Committee Chairman Mrs. Earl Tate of Detroit told the 2,492 registered delegates to apply their convention theme — PTA Opens the Door to Critical Issues — to solve some of the state and local problems.

Among them are employee organization, curriculum planning, Federal Air programs, getting and keeping good teachers, the church and state issues and financial support for all public schools.

Mrs. Leo Niquette, Escanaba, attending the Detroit meeting, served on the election board where the convention delegates chose A. B. Haist, Rapid City, former superintendent of schools at Negaunee, to serve as president for three years.

During the business sessions, presided over by outgoing president Mrs. Viola Otto, Jackson, the delegates passed resolutions relating to moral and spiritual values, aid for public schools, intercultural understanding, driver education, support for school lunch programs, needed increases in funds for special education programs and support for a house bill to increase state aid for public schools.

Attending from U.P. Region A were Mrs. Val Pontti, Ishpeming, regional vice-president; James Goich, Marquette, publicity chairman; Mrs. W. J. Burkart, Iron Mountain, preschool chairman; Mrs. Wilfred Mattson, Sault Ste. Marie, District 18 Director; Mrs. Leo Niquette, Escanaba, District 19 Director; Mrs. William Savard, Escanaba Area PTA Council; Mrs. Keith Mattson, Soo Hill PTA, also delegates from K. I. Sawyer, Marquette and the Soo.

While at convention Mrs. Niquette made arrangements with A. B. Haist for regional and district workshops to be held in the Upper Peninsula in October.

designate six economic development areas, identical in their boundaries, with the Community Action Agency districts. Each area would have assigned to it from UPCAP a resident economic developer who would be backed up by specialized kinds of assistance from the central UPCAP office, from the universities and from business and industry. In each area there would be a policy-making body similar to the executive boards of the Community Action Districts. The effect would be coordination of economic opportunity and economic development by linking them at the local level as well as the regional.

"This program needs the approval of the Economic Development Administration, but I think we have a good chance of getting it."

Help Offered To Alcoholics

Of all of the many diseases of mankind, one of the most difficult for folks to be constructive and understanding about is alcoholism. In fact, the idea that alcoholism is a disease has only become generally accepted in recent years, reports Dr. Albert Heustis, director of the Michigan Department of Health.

A condemning attitude is much more likely on the part of individuals close to an alcoholic.

The alcoholic's behavior tends to generate rejection on the part of his immediate family and friends — and this rejection, in turn, tends to generate an increased need on the part of the alcoholic to escape into the bottle. The vicious cycle reinforces itself and the situation usually gets progressively worse unless some outside force, such as Alcoholics Anonymous, intervenes to help reduce some of the mutual fear and hostility, Dr. Heustis pointed out.

This type of outside aid can encourage the alcoholic and his family to gain insight into the nature of the underlying illness. Accepting the fact that the problem exists and understanding alcoholism as a disease, are really the first steps in doing something about it. It is a fact that alcoholics can recover — if they want to badly enough — and if they are given the kind of outside help they need, he added.

"Most of us who deal with the problem agree that the disease is the product of more than one cause. A person suffering from alcoholism has medical problems, and social problems. He needs help with his situation on all of these fronts if permanent recovery is to be achieved," the Health Director said.

"If the disease of alcoholism is a problem in your family, please don't hesitate to ask for help. There are alcoholism information centers in many Michigan communities, or you may ask your local health department for a list of the community sources that deal with the problem," he concluded.

House Leader Dined Here

Testimonial Dinner Honors Erlandsen

Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba) was honored at a testimonial dinner at The Terrace Saturday night by more than 300 of his colleagues in state government and his constituents and representatives of Upper Peninsula and state organizations.

The dinner was also a fund raising assist to Erlandsen, who is seeking his 10th term in the Legislature. The influence in state appropriations which he wields as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee was evident in the persons who came from Lansing to attend the dinner, and it was coupled with an obvious respect for his performance as a legislator.

Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh of the Michigan State Supreme Court cited Erlandsen's leadership in the state financing of better schooling as one of his greatest achievements.

"He came to maturity and voting age," said Justice Kavanagh "in the great depression when people did not have the advantages of education that we have today, and he had to depend upon his initiative as an individual if he was going to get an education for himself."

Educational Leader

"Einar at an early age worked in a paper plant and it is apparent from the offices he held that his fellow workers recognized his talents. They elected him to office in the union and I am sure he obtained an education under great difficulties and the hard way, but obtain it he did. He learned to work with people."

"He was elected in 1948 to represent this district in the Legislature and became a member of the Education Committee. Forty-five educational bills which were sponsored by him or co-sponsored became law and provide educational benefits so others wouldn't be deprived as he was. His work for our education system has made a great contribution. Recognizing that tonight is the representation here from our universities.

"He has always had a great love for the Upper Peninsula and he has worked to help not only his own district, but the whole U.P. The result is that he obtained many benefits for the U.P."

Greeted Friends

Justice Kavanagh also commended Erlandsen's support of court reform which created the new appellate court, created new circuit judgeships and generally improved the state's judicial establishment.

Erlandsen's reply was brief and affectionate. "I see so many friends from over the years here tonight," he said. "The friends that I played with under the streetlights. Friends from the Trades & Labor Council. My brother and sister. Political friends of 18 years. Friends from Schoolcraft County and from all the townships in Delta. If I could talk in every foreign tongue it wouldn't be enough to thank you all."

"I went to the Legislature determined to do my best. The 'Third House' is here tonight, too, the men (lobbyists) you lean on in trouble. You don't ask what their politics is; you ask if they will help. Thank you one and all for such a splendid turnout."

Toastmaster Edwin J. Wuehle of Manistique introduced Mrs. Erlandsen, who was presented with a gift from the Optometric Society by Dr. Alfred Gossan, Dr. Vernon Johnson, newly elected president of the Michigan State Dental Society; local notables and a group of Erlandsen's legislative colleagues.

Lauded By Lane

Senator Garland Lane (D-Flint) chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said "It is a pleasure to join in tribute to one of Michigan's outstanding legislators, a man of great ability who is doing a fine job."

Also introduced were Senator Charles Zollar (R-Benton Harbor), Senator Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood); Rep. William Copeland (D-Wyandotte); Rep. Russell Hellman (D-Dollar Bay); Rep. Jack Faxon (D-Detroit); Rep. Ray Flavin (D-Schwartz Creek); and Dr. Leon Fill of the State Board of Education. Susan Garrard and Sheila Piche entertained with folk songs and the blessings were by

Large Trout Starts Debate Over Species

BY DAVE ANDREWS

How do you tell a brook trout from a splake?

Vernon Viau of Rte. 1, Bark River, was wondering today after he landed a 27-inch, 6½-pounder on the opening day of Michigan's trout season Saturday.

Opinions on the fish, which had brookie coloring but a shallow fork in the tail like a splake, varied and Cliff Long, district fish biologist for the Dept. of Conservation at Escanaba, was unavailable for comment.

Either way, the fish made a success out of opening day for Viau while other fishermen found only spotty fishing on a cold first weekend. Good catches of rainbows were reported in the Little Garlic and Carp Rivers in Marquette County, but brook trout action was slow.

Water levels were higher than anticipated in the Escanaba River and that pretty much held true throughout the area. Our party of four fished several Alger County trout lakes without success and managed only a few small brooks from three Delta County streams.

Viau landed his big trout about 7:15 a.m. opening day from Squaw Lake north of Channing in Marquette County. He was using spinning gear and minnows. Viau and companions Jack Rahoi and Clem Madalinski of Bark River and Ron Baumbler of Iron Mountain netted nine trout over 14 inches before 9 o'clock.

If Viau's big one is a brookie, it may be near a state record.

The listed world record is 31½ inches, 14 pounds, eight ounces from the Nipigon River in Ontario in 1918.

Splake, which are a cross between brook and lake trout, have been taken over 12 pounds recently near Sault Ste. Marie.

What's Happening?

Quite a bit of the conversation about UPCAP turns on politics. "Tell me one thing it's ever done!" challenges a critic and the defender scrambles mentally to catalogue some concrete achievements. There have been some, but the agency is essentially a planning organization.

This sort of talk, however, misses the point. UPCAP—the Upper Peninsula Committee For Area Progress—is involved up to its neck in a huge and historic effort to change the Upper Peninsula in a deep and important way. The federal government is pouring money into this effort in a river, as though it were trying to avoid a surplus of the stuff.

UPCAP started off like Hansel and Gretel lost in the forest but after a year or so of floundering it found out where the action is—in Washington. They have the mint there and there are ways of getting money out the back door. Professor Henry Higgins suggests in "My Fair Lady" about French regard for conduct—"they don't care what you do, as long as you pronounce it properly." Government tends to be that way with money. They don't care how you spend it, as long as you account for it.

President Johnson's "War on Poverty" may be just a political gimmick in the opinion of some Americans, but it is a fact of life in the Upper Peninsula. There are 150 persons working at it in the U.P. and with more to come. And these are just the administrators.

The people who are working at it are devoted to it with the zeal of missionaries. There are some suspicious political coincidences in some of the job choices, but this is inevitable and if the boot were on the other foot the Republicans would be suspect. And while it may be just a political job to a few, it is a "cause" to many; their earnestness cannot be questioned and their insistence that there is poverty in the Upper Peninsula must be accepted.

The question remaining is whether something should be done about it, and how, and how much? The federal War on Poverty is already a huge effort with the seemingly certain prospect that it will evolve into a multi-billion dollar a year program.

A year ago no one would have believed that the U.P. would have so many programs underway to help low income people. UPCAP has been largely converted to this program and it has been significantly successful in getting federal funds to finance an increasing number of projects and to expand them.

At present the offerings include pre-school training and health services for children, all sorts of educational assistance under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and Higher Education Act, money for needy college students, job training, on-the-job training, small business development centers to help businessmen and loan them money ($750,000 so far), and the older package of civic works grants.

UPCAP has sponsored several economic development projects, but it is only now moving into action on a broad front to do something drastic about helping the poor. The six Community Action Agencies of the U.P. are each getting a full time attorney to do legal work free for the low income people.

One third of the housing in the U.P. is reported sub-standard and a big housing project is being planned. There'll be another for health, with dental projects in a development stage as an opener.

And the Economic Development Administration will be asked to finance six economic development areas to coincide with the six Community Action Agency districts, so that there will be a coordination of government efforts at providing economic opportunity for the individual and of stimulating the general economy. In other words, to prepare the disadvantaged for jobs and to help provide the jobs.

The federal government is going to move on poverty where local communities tolerate it. The alternative—like the employer trying to keep out a union by raising wages—is to do something about it ourselves. It's going to be gosh awful expensive if the federal government does it and the results still will be uncertain, because the effort can be successful only if the disadvantaged are integrated into the affluent society, and that is a process which is social as well as economic.

Lurleen Is Leading

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's wife, Lurleen, leads a field of 10 Democratic governorship candidates so strongly that several observers now believe she will win a majority vote in the May 3 primary and not require a runoff effort May 31.

Attorney General Richmond Flowers, making an unprecedented open bid for heavy Negro support in a state whose Negro registration has soared this year to 230,000, is widely rated the likeliest prospect for second place—and a runoff berth if Mrs. Wallace should not muster 51 per cent on May 3.

The joking and disbelief which greeted Lurleen Wallace's entry into the 1966 race have long since vanished. Admittedly fragmentary but impressively numerous straw polls from widely scattered sectors of Alabama show her far outdistancing all rivals.

One sample: Wallace (Mrs.) 18, all others 9. Another, from northern Alabama: Wallace 11%, former Rep. Carl Elliott 30, Robert Gilchrist, a state senator, 25. From the town of Tallahassee, a short radio poll returned up 40 for Wallace, 4 for all others.

The Alabama Journal in Montgomery polled county officers and found that 51 of the 58 counties responding—out of 67 in the state—placed Mrs. Wallace first.

The reasons for this circumstance are plain enough.

The governor, barred by the state constitution from seeking re-election and angered at the Alabama Senate's refusal to open the way for removal of

EROSION HAS TAKEN its toll on this bridge over the Rapid River in Masonville Township. The concrete wing-wall in the foreground is nearly completely undermined from constant water and ice pressure. The bridge on county road I-18 was built in 1908. (Daily Press Photo)

A New Approach For Bridges Is Planned By Delta County

By DAVE ANDREWS

There's a bend in the steel trusswork on one bridge. On another, the east end is held up by a tree.

On all of them, the wing walls at the banks of their streams have eroded through 60 years of beatings by rushing water and spring ice jams.

Altogether, said William Karas, Road Commission superintendent, there are 21 bridges over Delta County roads which need to be replaced. Some are worse than others. All of them are bad.

"One of these days," Karas frowned, "one of them is going to fall down and someone is going to be hurt."

The continued deterioration of an already critical situation is a matter of grave concern to Karas, supervisor Harold Vanlerberghe of Escanaba, supervisor Charles Sedenquist of Wells, a number of other county leaders, and the Road Commission. Karas would like to replace all of the bridges. Until money is available he can't.

Not New Problem
The Road Commission can't legally lift a stone until matching funds on a 50-50 basis are assured. The local share can come from a township, from an individual or from an industry, but by law it must come.

"The only time you can get any money for bridges is when one falls down. Let one of them fall down with one of those things on it," Karas said, pointing at a loaded school bus. "Then we'll get some action."

The problem of sagging bridges isn't new to Delta County. There have been times to get mileage approved. So far, nothing has been successful, but Delta County now has another plan.

Two weeks ago, the Board of Supervisors approved an application for federal assistance on the bridge problem to the Economic Development Administration.

If approved, the federal government will pay 60 per cent of the cost (Delta County is considered 60 per cent depressed for War on Poverty purposes). Total cost of the program would be $400,000 with the federal government paying $240,000.

Save 50 Per Cent
The Road Commission would do the work — saving, Karas figures, about 50 per cent of what private contractors would charge for the same job.

"The whole idea," he said, "is to build the strongest possible bridges at the cheapest possible cost."

That the Road Commission can do the job has already been proven. Road Commission bridges are already being used on some county roads.

The savings would come through making maximum use of Road Commission equipment, men and materials. A 21-bridge job would also allow saving in purchase price of steel. The basic design is proven.

"When we get a little time during slack periods, all we do is sew some steel together," Karas said. "Then all we have to do is take the sections to the site and put them up. We can put up a bridge with a 4 or 5 man crew in about 10 days, plus the time it takes to pour the footings."

Basic design is simple. Steel is welded into U-shaped spans. The spans are erected three feet apart across the desired width of roadway with the tips of the "U" bolted and welded onto the footings.

Patterns Made
These spans are then covered with a corrugated steel which looks much like the bumpy cardboard used in boxes. The corrugated steel is covered with blacktop, regular guard rails are welded to the sides and the bridge is completed.

The U-shaped spans can be placed side by side in a U-U fashion to cross wider streams. "We have patterns for everything we need," Karas said. "All we need is money."

"This is going to have to be done some day," he continued. "You can't close your eyes to it. You can't have the centralized schools we've been moving toward without a modern road system. You can't get products out of the forests, either."

"What surprises me is that our forefathers found the money in their day to build these bridges. Here in the prosperous 60's we can't raise enough to replace them."

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Jumping up and down on a trampoline looks like such fun you can't blame every child in the neighborhood for wanting to try it. Like most other sports, however, it is safe only when performed under supervision. The apparatus should never be left set up where amateurs who have not had proper instructions can use it. Improper use can cause severe sprains and bruises of the back, ankles and, most serious of all, the neck.

Once a child has made a few jumps on a trampoline there is a great temptation to add a little variety and try some acrobatic feats. This must be firmly prohibited until the child is thoroughly familiar with the fundamentals of the sport. These should be taught by an instructor who is familiar with the hazards and how to avoid them.

Q — My sister's baby, 4-weeks-old, hasn't had a natural bowel movement since she was brought home from the hospital. The doctor says to give her an infant suppository every four days. What would cause this condition? Can't something be done about it?

A — Your sister has a very wise doctor. The baby may establish a more usual routine in time but some persons go to stool only twice a week and, if the bowel movement is of normal consistency, this is a perfectly normal pattern for them. In any case more harm than good would come from trying to force this baby to have a stool every day.

Q — My daughter, 12, has retrolubar neuritis. Would scolding her make her worse? Should she be allowed to babysit?

A — In this condition there is pain in the eyes and some impairment of vision. It is a disservice to a child with this, or any other disease, to withhold any punishment that is deserved. When it is deserved and what form the punishment should take often calls for a great deal of judgment.

There is no danger that any child your daughter sits with will catch her neuritis but every effort should be made to find and treat the underlying cause of her trouble. Unless this process is checked it will lead to a permanent partial loss of vision.

Q — To stretch my food dollars, I mix a quart of whole milk with a quart of reconstituted powdered milk. Will this deprive my children of any essential nutrients? Is margarine as nutritious as butter?

A — If your children each drink three or more glasses a day of the mixture they will get plenty of the nutrient supplied by milk. Margarine is fully as nutritious as butter and is less likely to produce a high blood cholesterol level.

Ann Landers Says: There Are No Trays? Smoker That Is Hint

Dear Ann Landers: You were wrong, wrong, wrong when you said people should have ash trays around for guests who smoke even if they don't smoke themselves. Why? To encourage the filthy habit? Ash trays are an invitation to smoke. When there are no ash trays a guest should take the hint.

We have no ash trays in our home because we don't want people to smoke. If a guest asks if he may light up we tell him (as politely as we can) to take his cigarettes outside. He can like it or lump it.

I happen to know you are a non-smoker, Ann, and that you have repeatedly spoken out against tobacco. In a recent column you told a teen-ager, "Smoking is a dirty, offensive, expensive, ugly habit and we now have indisputable evidence that it is damaging to health. Don't start."

Why did you suddenly abandon this stand? Please explain. —DEEPLY DISAPPOINTED

Dear DeePLY: You are right, I was wrong. I plead temporary insanity and recommend that my punishment be 10 lashes with a wet tobacco leaf. When there are no ash trays in sight a guest should indeed take the hint.

You are correct when you say I am a militant anti-cigarette girl. I blast the weed whenever I can—in fact I've been accused of being a bit of a nut on the subject. I know someone who is even nuttier than I am and I'm going to print part of his column which appeared in the Minneapolis Tribune. The writer is Will Jones and this is what he had to say:

"An open letter from a Non-Smoker to All Smokers: Having trouble kicking the habit? Well, I'm sick of hearing about it. I'm sick of the whining and hawing and yapping about the surgeon general's report. I'm bored with all the jokes about the trouble you're having trying to give up cigarettes. "For 40 years I've lived in a world dominated by smokers. I've complained very little. I've accepted the fact that this is a smoker's world. But I'm through being quiet about it. "Do you know how you smokers look to those of us who don't smoke? You are ill-bred, ill-mannered, inconsiderate slob. You may think you look glamorous like the smokers in the ads and the movies, but you don't. You have a nasty habit and you look ridiculous. Furthermore you stink."

"I've had it up to here with sore, red eyes caused by other people's smoke. I've had it up to here with burned rugs and floors and furniture because of slob who not only are slaves to a habit but are so fumble-fingered they can't even handle it. And unless you smoke in absolute fireproof privacy, with other smokers, you are intolerable. You are the enemy."

Mao Fate Mystery Stirs Speculation Of Chinese Power Shift

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deepening mystery over the fate of Mao Tse-tung spurred speculation among U.S. officials today about a possible power shift in Red China with worldwide repercussions.

The belief that the Chinese Communist leadership may be approaching a transition period is one of several reasons for recent overtures by the Johnson administration to reduce tensions and lower barriers between Red China and the United States.

All these gestures have been rebuffed by the Peking regime, but administration experts believe they may have an impact on the foreign policy attitude of future Chinese leaders.

The United States and, so far as Washington authorities can determine the Soviet Union, also, have been watching the Mao mystery develop for several months with growing fascination.

The interest of Soviet leaders in the possibility of personality changes in the top of the Peking ruling group is believed here to be a prime cause of their determination to hold the door open to some sort of Soviet-Chinese reconciliation.

The Chinese refused to attend a recent Communist Party meeting in Moscow but the Soviets nevertheless left the way clear for some later improvement in relations.

Mao's situation is regarded here as the key to what is likely to happen in Peking in the next few weeks or months. But it is a key which the outside world, reportedly including Soviet as well as American experts on Chinese Communist affairs, does not presently understand.

Mao, 72, last made a public appearance in November when he received a delegation from Cambodia.

But when he failed to reappear in Peking as winter ended, U.S. experts began to speculate that he was ill. The belief that he has suffered a serious illness or perhaps undergone a major operation is now the dominant view in official Washington circles. He did not appear at Sunday's May Day celebration.

Escanaba police reported that the car was driven by Mary Lou Lancour, 17, of 615 Ludington St. No traffic tickets were issued.

Texas Pair Are Fastest Guns

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Graham may be the fastest guns in the West — or anywhere else, for that matter.

The Houston, Tex., couple proved Sunday in the National Fast Draw Association's world championship that they are the fastest guns around.

Graham, 31, a bespectacled bank-equipment salesman, won his second straight world championship. He averaged .45 of a second — drawing, shooting and hitting targets — in the contest's four classes.

His wife, Merrill, 21, a long-haired blonde who looks as good as she shoots, won the women's title with an average drawing and shooting time of .61 of a second. Her fastest was .44.

"I can give the average person a pistol, have him cock it and point it at me and draw and fire before he can," said Graham who uses a modern plastic-lined holster for the old Western sport of gunslinging.

Struck By Rotor Blade, Man Dies

VESTABURG (AP) — A 36-year-old Wayne man, helping guide a hovering helicopter onto a flatbed trailer at an airport near here, was struck and killed by a rotor blade Sunday.

When it was over, the two

Critic Objects To Car Names

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry critic Prof. Jeffrey O'Connell says that the federal government is the only unit which can make effective changes in auto safety.

"The driver can not do it, the auto companies can not do it and so it is up to Washington," O'Connell told a news conference.

He was particularly critical of auto companies' advertising themes in youth magazines which emphasized horsepower and get-up-and-go capabilities of cars.

"If the car makers are sincere in their new found interest in auto safety, I call on them to stop right now this ruthless exploitation of the young...I call on them to stop naming and advertising their cars as wild and ferocious creatures like Wildcat, Fury and Marauder," O'Connell said.

O'Connell, while critical of Detroit's auto safety policies, conceded in answer to a question that he never had visited any of the auto companies' safety research laboratories or talked with any of their top safety people about various problems.

men were loading the craft on the trailer when a skid became caught. As Stutesman maneuvered to free it, officers said, the helicopter tipped and the blade hit Kluck, breaking his neck.

Eskymo Track Team Retains GNC Title

A record shattering performance by junior hurdler Jim Boyle paced the Escanaba Eskymos to their second straight Great Northern Conference track and field championship here Saturday.

Boyle cracked the conference records in both the high and low hurdles, placed second in the long jump and ran the first leg on the Eskymo 880 yard relay team that placed second. He contributed 17 points to Escanaba's winning total of 56 1/2.

Kingsford made an early run at the Eskymos but faded in the late stages of the meet and finished second with 46 points. Menominee was third. Iron Mountain fourth, Stephenson fifth and Holy Name sixth.

Five new conference standards were established in spite of frigid temperatures and strong winds.

Crozier Suffers Injury

Canadiens Trip Red Wings To Square Playoff Series

DETROIT (AP) — That 10-day rest the Montreal Canadiens had between the conclusion of their Stanley Cup semifinal series with Toronto and the start of the finals against Detroit just might prove to be the deciding factor in this year's series.

The Canadiens looked flat—and some observers felt the reason was the long layoff—in the first two games in Montreal but outskated and outthrustled the Red Wings in Detroit and came back to even the best-of-seven series at two games each.

Ralph Backstrom's goal with less than seven minutes remaining carried the Canadiens to a 2-1 victory Sunday and back into the favorite's role.

The Red Wings played with substitute goalie Hank Bassen in the nets after Roger Crozier suffered a sprained left knee and twisted ankle in the early moments of the contest.

The Red Wings were not sure whether or not Crozier would be available for the fifth game in Montreal Tuesday night.

"We'll just have to wait and see how he feels Monday," Manager-Coach Sid Abel said.

Bassen, who appeared in 11 regular season games and was playing only his fifth playoff game, stopped everything the Canadiens shot at him and could not be faulted for the two goals.

Jean Beliveau tied the score when he deflected J.C. Tremblay's shot on a power play in the final minute of the second period and Backstrom capped a well-played three-man rush with Dick Duff and Jim Rosters.

The Canadiens' victory means the series will go at least six games. The sixth game will be played in Detroit Thursday.

A seventh and deciding game, if necessary, will be played in Montreal. The Canadiens have scheduled it for Saturday night but may move it to Sunday afternoon to take advantage of the television coverage again.

Norm Ullman scored Detroit's goal in the second period.

"Those two goals would have beaten anybody," Montreal Coach Toe Blake said.

"We're still not playing our best game but I think we are beginning to get our skating back in line," Blake added.

"There's no use saying home ice will be beneficial in this series," Blake added with a grin. "We've had a hard time winning here all year."

Abel said Montreal's winning marker came on a fluke.

"That goal deflected off one of our players before it went into the net. I don't think we could have played any better than we did. It was a tough hockey game, and we lost it on breaks."

The Associated Press

It was a weak week for Willie Mays as he waited for him to hit his 512th home run. Willie Mays was having trouble hitting anything.

Mays added to his recent problems Sunday by suffering a bruised left knee in San Francisco's 2-0 victory over St. Louis.

The injury, suffered in a first base collision with the Cardinals' George Kernek, forced Mays from the game in the fourth inning, marking the third time in the past week that he left a game before it was over.

A cold and an upset stomach sent Mays home early last Tuesday and Wednesday and kept him out of the line-up altogether Thursday. Contributing to his ills was a bruised right hand which hampered his swing and caused him to throw his bat a couple of times.

The result has been a drastic reduction in his hitting output.

Mike Cuellar of Houston posted the third four-hitter of the day, losing a shutout when Hank Aaron homered in the ninth. Jim Gentile hit a two-run homer, John Bateman added a three-run blast and Lee Maye connected with none on.

The Los Angeles Dodgers bunched three of their four hits for three runs in the third inning. John Roseboro's leadoff double was one of the hits while a run-scoring bunt single by pitcher Don Sutton and another bunt single by Maury Wills were the others.

The Cubs, who made four errors themselves, took advantage of six Phillie errors for their victory. Four of their runs were unearned as a result of two errors by Tony Taylor and one each by Clay Dalrymple, Larry Jackson, John Briggs and Tony Gonzalez.

McDowell, Cleveland's ace left-hander, collected two hits Sunday and his second straight one-hitter, allowing only a bloop double by Don Buford in the second inning as he pitched the Indians to a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

McDowell, Cleveland's ace left-hander, collected two hits Sunday and his second straight one-hitter, allowing only a bloop double by Don Buford in the second inning as he pitched the Indians to a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The feat of hurling successive one-hitters had been accomplished only three previous times in major league history, by Lon Warneke when he was with the Chicago Cubs, Mort Cooper when he was with the St. Louis Cardinals and Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees.

McDowell also lived up to his blinding speed, by striking out 10 and bringing his major league-leading total to 49. The undefeated southpaw also became the first American League pitcher to win four games and lower his earned run average to a sparkling 1.54.

The victory was the 11th in 12 games this season for the Indians, who started off by winning their first 10 games. The 10-game winning streak was matched Sunday by the Baltimore Orioles, who lifted their record to 12-1 by defeating Detroit 4-1.

The other AL teams played doubleheaders and all split.

The nightcap was another story as the Yankees overcame a 4-2 deficit with a six-run sixth inning explosion triggered by Roy White's homer. Lou Clinton's two-run single, a two-run double by Jake Gibbs and a run-scoring single by Bobby Richardson wrapped it up.

Sign with a Continental League team

In the NFL, Chicago has rights to Ladd, and Detroit can bargain with Faison, because they originally drafted them.

Neither team has shown much interest, and the reason is obvious to all of football: An inter-league fuss of staggering proportions. Veteran players in both leagues would begin playing out options for more money in the other league.

Gillman thought his problem was solved when it was announced that Ladd and Faison were traded to the AFL Houston Oilers. But Joe Foss, then AFL commissioner, voided the deal.

Foss accused Houston of tampering.

Baseball Talks Slated Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee-Atlanta situation will be discussed at a special meeting of the National League late Monday afternoon, a day before the two major leagues hold a joint session.

Although Wisconsin Circuit Court Judge Elmer Roller ordered the Braves to return to Atlanta May 18 if the league had not made expansion plans for 1967, including Milwaukee, by May 16, there was no indication of any immediate expansion.

"Expansion will be discussed," said league president Warren Giles before leaving his Cincinnati home. "I do not anticipate any action will be taken at this meeting."

"We will hear the report of our counsel on the Wisconsin case. It may be necessary to have another meeting before May 16."

Giles said the league would consider the report of the players' association and other matters, such as a proposed trip to Japan by the Los Angeles Dodgers, which will come up for discussion at the joint meeting Tuesday morning, called by Commissioner William Eckert.

It had been reported that the state of Georgia is considering filing suit directly to the U.S. Supreme Court against the state of Wisconsin to expedite a final decision on the Braves.

The Wisconsin court ruled April 13 that the Braves and the National League had violated Wisconsin's antitrust laws and their refusal to issue a franchise to Milwaukee County was restraint of trade and commerce.

However, a Georgia court has issued a permanent injunction calling on the Braves and the league to fulfill a 25-year contract for use of the new stadium in Atlanta.

Tigers Drop Third In Row To Orioles; Will Get Today Off

DETROIT (AP) — The punyless Detroit Tigers had a day off today after leaving 26 base runners stranded while losing a three-game weekend series to the American League leading Baltimore Orioles.

Detroit outthrew the Orioles in all three games but never got a sustained offense going.

The Tigers had Steve Barber of the Orioles in trouble most of Sunday afternoon but, with relief help from Dick Hall, he hung on to notch a 4-1 win and a sweep of the series.

Baltimore ran its winning streak to 10, thus equalling the winning streak with which the Cleveland Indians opened the AL campaign.

Joe Sparrma, first of four Tiger pitchers, tangled with Barber in a scoreless duel for three innings before he ran into home run trouble.

Brooks Robinson singled to set the stage for a two-run blast by Boog Powell. It was Powell's second home run of the season, both of them coming in the Detroit series.

Baltimore struck again in the fifth for two more runs to run the score to 4-0. The big wallop was a bases loaded single by Brooks Robinson after singles by Andy Etchebarren and Luis Aparicio and a pass to Curt Bleary had loaded the bases.

The Tigers got the leadoff man on base in five of the eight innings they faced Barber but could not bunt their hits.

Their only run came in the sixth when Don Wert walked and took third on Jerry Lumpe's single to center. Don Demeter grounded to Aparicio who started a double play while Wert scampered home.

The Tigers loaded the bases in the seventh with one away and could not score. In the eighth, Barber got into a jam again as he gave up a single to Lumpe and a walk to Al Kaline with one out. Hall rushed in and got Bill Freehan on a line drive and Orlando McFarlane on strikes to preserve the win for Barber (2-0). Loser Sparrma is now 1-1.

Totals for the weekend series showed Detroit outthrew the Orioles 25 to 21, but got only four runs across while Baltimore was scoring 15 times. Detroit left 26 men on base, the Orioles 16.

Mickey Lolich (2-1) is slated to pitch the opener of an abbreviated two game series against the Boston Red Sox at Tiger Stadium Tuesday night. Jose Santiago was due to make his first start of the year for the Red Sox.
